Abraham Lincoln and
Frederick Douglass:
A Walk To Respect

by playwright and director,
Beth Duda

Produced by The Patterson Foundation in partnership with Westcoast Black Theatre Troupe

“A BRILLIANT PIECE
which resonated with the audience.”

“CONGRATULATIONS ON THIS CONTRIBUTION
to furthering discussion about differences with civility and respect.”

“This was a fabulously scripted and performed play
with an abundance of meaning and depth.
I thoroughly enjoyed it.”

“The importance of respect and friendship
even when we don’t see eye to eye or agree on those ideas we are passionate about.”

“How relevant the example of respectful communication is so desperately needed today in all areas of life.”
