The Change Begins With Us

Aspirations to Actions: Teams participated in a very lively and fun Innovation Space workshop earlier this month, led by our Harwood guru, Bill Booth. The positive energy in the room was felt by all as teams and individuals shared what they have learned from the Harwood practice.

Teams working together

Throughout the morning, the dialogue continued to circle back to the Harwood language we are learning and using, as well as the tools that are available to help us.

We heard about aspirations, gathered from turning outward and doing Community Conversations, and the need to find ways to share this information. We learned to distinguish between issues and conditions, what community rhythms are, and how we can calibrate actions to the community to allow us to successfully connect with other partners.

Sustaining Yourself - Getting people across the community to work together takes a great deal of personal commitment and energy. It’s important to make sure you keep your own “batteries charged” when you do this valuable and often difficult work.
